Ballot-Marking Guide

Here is your guide to marking ballot propositions. California is not only noted for smothering the ballot with issues — some of which are contrived for special interest groups rather than the public — but may have reverse meanings . . . where your "yes" vote is actually against the proposal.

Here is this year's overview of the propositions on the June 8 ballot.

PROPOSITION 1 — YES
$200 million bond issue to aid local school districts finance construction and improve facilities by lend-lease agreements.

Ronald Reagan on Affluence

In the long post-war world of affluence, perhaps we have forgotten the simple fact that no one gave America the world's highest standard of living. We earned it, by being the most productive and efficient industrial nation in the world.

Speech, February 15, 1972
From Joseph R. Holmes "The Quotable Ronald Reagan"

Helicopter Aids Capture Of Spring Valley Burglars

A sheriff's deputy, on routine patrol, was traveling west on Jamacha about 9:30 Wednesday evening.

He snapped on his blue light to inform the car in the lane ahead of him that its taillight was out.

The car, with three passengers, stopped abruptly. The driver jumped out and fled. A passenger slid into the driver's position and sped away.

As the car lurched, the trunk cover flew open. In the trunk were various items of electronic gear including a 19" television.

The officer reported the chase by radio as he pursued the car north on Skyline dr. A sheriff's helicopter in the vicinity joined the chase and the suspect's car was stopped at Massachusetts and Mt. Vernon sts. in Lemon Grove. One man was apprehended at the scene. The other fled but was followed by the spotlights of the helicopter. He was captured nearby at the entrance to Monte Vista Lodge on Massachusetts.

The items in the car were later reported to have been stolen from a resident of Broadway ave. in Spring Valley.

Fingerprints on the loot matched those of a black male with an extensive prior record.

Officers obtained a warrant for his arrest and placed him in county jail to await trial.

Broesch Convicted In Car Bomb Case

Vincent Broesch, 19, of Lemon Grove has been convicted of placing a pipe bomb under the car of James Finch, a Mt. Miguel High school vice principal in May, 1975.

Judge Raul Rosado Friday ordered a psychiatric test for Broesch while he is being held without bail until sentencing on June 18.

Two cars were damaged by the explosion of the pipe bomb but no one was injured.

Last year, during the visit of the Japanese Emperor to San Diego, Secret Service found Broesch near the motorcade with .22-calibre ammunition in his pocket and a rifle with a telescopic sight in his car.

No charge was lodged against Broesch.

Mt. Miguel Pool 'Pyramid' Founders

By John Kowalczyk

Things looked pretty dry at Mt. Miguel on May 28.

Robert Pyle's plan to raise $123,600 in a "pyramid" network of contributions had fallen far short of reaching its goal by deadline. Pyle, principal at Mt. Miguel High, had hoped to be able to buy his school a swimming pool after mustering $10 contributions from 12,360 local residents—thus raising $123,000—but the total take by Friday was between $5,500 and $6,000, instead. A more precise figure was not available.

The May 28 deadline passed but Pyle intends to keep the project going, at least for a while.

"We set the date to motivate people to move along with the project," he said. He promises to continue it as long as eight team leaders keep working. Letters, urging them to work harder on the $123,600 pyramid, were sent last week to a core group of 60.

Pool Plan

Pyle introduced his collection scheme labeled "The Pool Plan" at a dinner meeting in the school cafeteria in April. He recruited a cross-section of local people as his core group who would saturate the community, according to the plan. The eight team leaders, members of the Mt. Miguel Boosters, each supervise a fraction of the core.

Members of the core were asked to contribute $10 and recruit five others. Each member of the 60 groups of five (300) would be asked to donate $10 and locate another four contributors.

Those 1200 would then each try to rustle up another three contributors (3600) who would each also attempt to find two more $10 donors (7200).

The figures add up, but the contributions haven't, so far.

Getting people to donate $10 is not as much a problem as finding enough who are willing to recruit others, Pyle said.

He expects to raise as much as $10,000 when pyramid efforts are eventually called off. That would bring the fund for the Mt. Miguel Aquatics Center to $29,000.

Though $10,000 is not nearly $123,600, the principal is encouraged by the fact that the fund-raiser is already the most successful money maker to date. Among other efforts are two pool-a-thons, where patrons chip in a pledged amount for each lap a swimmer swims; rummage sales and a blitz, an intense door-to-door campaign for contributions. The pool-a-thons netted $3,000 and $4,000 respectively and the blitz was good for $1,500.

An embarrassing flop for the pool people was the "Grasp Nov. 1" fiasco of last fall. The plan was to acquire a large number of articles of merchandise or certificates for service and auction them off at a gala dinner-dance-auction, in the style of the annual COMBO and KPBS auction. The project, set for the first of November, was scrapped when donors failed to materialize.

Cost of the Project

At today's prices a pool and accessories to accommodate school and community recreation use costs an estimated $160,000. But construction costs have a habit of climbing. Nonetheless, Pyle predicts that $100,000 in the till would be enough to begin construction.

He also believes that, once the construction gets underway, donations will escalate.

"I believe there are a lot of people living in the district who would be willing to make larger contributions to the fund, once they see the pool construction begin," Pyle said. He envisions donations of more than $1,000.

Once Bitten . . .

There may be a once-bitten-twice-shy stigma in Lemon Grove regarding the pool fund.

Two decades ago, a group of private citizens called Lemon Grove Swimming Pool Association tried to raise money to build a pool on a 2½-acre site on Washington st. The group became discouraged when voters in Lemon Grove struck down a ballot item which would have created a park and recreation district. The community service district could have helped build and would have maintained the pool.

The Association disbanded in May 1961 and assets were used to build Lemon Grove County Park on the pool property and adjoining acreage.

They Did It

Less than three miles east of Mt. Miguel is Monte Vista High which has had a pool since January 1974. Monte Vista Boosters raised the money for their pool in much the same way that Mt. Miguel has, with obviously greater success. Monte Vista got a $25,000 boost from Grossmont Union High School District, plus another $50,000 from the county. They now owe less than $21,000.

"I think there is a significant difference in the social economic levels between the two neighborhoods," Pyle said. "It seems that people at Monte Vista have more means and think in bigger terms, have more money and more ability to generate large contributions."

There are no new plans for another major fund-raising scheme in the near future, says Pyle, who is disappointed in the lackluster response to his pyramid plan.

EARLY AMERICANS — Carol Hambel, Eileen Ewers and Joanne Loritz, dressed in early American garb, will be among six girls from Girl Scout Troop 6092 of St. John of the Cross Catholic church to receive First Class honors at a Court of Awards ceremony Monday evening at 6 p.m. in the parish hall. A pot luck dinner will accompany the awards also to be presented to Valerie Muirhead, Janet Karlson and Jill Bignell.

EPIC Plans Recreation At Three LG Locations

By John Kowalczyk

The Effective Problem Intervention Center (EPIC), Lemon Grove's volunteer social service facility headquartered at 3319 Buena Vista, wants to provide more recreation and social services in town.

The organization is trying to procure federal funds to expand service in Lemon Grove from a one-spot, after school program to three locations and up to 10 hours of activity a week, plus social workers at all three locations.

EPIC makes no promises—any new program which relies on government funding is as provisory as tomorrow's weather forecast — but they are making plans.

Their plan, in part, is to expand the Lemon Grove recreation program run by Heartland Youth Services at the Lemon Grove United Church of Christ. Susan Buchenau has operated the after school rec. program there for more than a year.

EPIC, which merged with HYS in February, would like to extend the program to two other locations, Monterey Heights and Golden Avenue Schools. Added to the sports, games and crafts activities for kindergarten through sixth graders will be a social service outlet at each location manned by EPIC personnel.

If they get the funding, that is.

Year-Round Recreation

EPIC spokesperson Ellie Fishman outlined the plan for school officials at a recent Lemon Grove board of trustees meeting. She said that 800 children could be accommodated at the three locations. The school district need only offer facilities.

Working with EPIC will be the community school coordinators at Golden and Monterey Heights, Don Linfesty and Donna Beckley.

The two were hired by the district this school year to provide adults and children with extracurricular activities.

"We are already funded, through Title I, for a summer program at Golden," Linfesty said. "But EPIC would be able to help us operate an expanded program at the school all year round."

Linfesty presently administers what he calls a "low-key" recreation program at the school. He has organized classes in judo, stitchery and dance and he supervises playground activities.

A similar program is in the works at Monterey Heights under Beckley.

Seeks $70,000

EPIC is seeking funds from two sources. It is trying for $35,000 in revenue sharing from the county's Human Care Services budget, and another $35,000 federal grant through San Diego Youth Services.

The county, in the process of honing its fiscal budget, cut its original Human Care Services allotment by 25 per cent. The Board of Supervisors is expected to decide on its budget Tuesday.

EPIC should know where it stands on the Youth Services grant by June 15, Fishman said. Of the $35,000 sought, $15,000 would furnish emergency foster parent care service and the remainder would pay for salaries, rent, printing and supplies.

The organization has already expanded beyond the bounds of its Buena Vista headquarters. Its social services have been subcontracted since October by a Heartland Youth Services outlet in La Mesa and since April 1 at the Spring Valley Teen Center at 8708 Jamacha rd.

The social services EPIC intends to offer at the proposed three Lemon Grove centers would include family and individual counseling and referral services.

But again, the whole expansion plan is contingent. "We don't want to give people the impression that this is coming and then have to disappoint them if the funds don't come through," Fishman stresses.

The plans call for recreational activities which many feel are lacking in Lemon Grove, an area which does not have a park and recreation district. Voters here have a history of turning down park and recreation issues at the polls.

LG Parent Counters CEC Plan

Only one parent took the opportunity to speak at a Lemon Grove School Board public hearing on the Certificated Employees Council's bargaining proposal, the groundwork upon which collective bargaining will be based after July 1.

Lee Morgan, who has three children in the district, expressed "complete opposition to the document," and cited sections which he termed unacceptable.

Morgan told board members the legal base for bargaining is lacking in the CEC's 68-page document. He said that the cost of living scale was "unacceptable and completely out of line."

A section of the document calls for regular adjustments in salary schedules to compenstate for increases in the cost of living CEC asks for an increase in December by a factor derived from dividing the Consumer Price Index for the San Diego area in the beginning of the school year by the CPI in June. Figures are furnished by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

There are currently no automatic cost of living increases for Lemon Grove school employees.

Morgan also objected to the concept of having one body represent all teachers in the school district because, he said, all members are forced to lend financial support to the organization. That arrangement, he explained, is open for corruption.

Other complaints were that the specificatioins for fixed class sizes were inappropriate, that restrictions written into the entire document were too strict, and that the proposal left parents with little say in policy and service changes.

Board president H. Warren Buckner thanked Morgan for his remarks, commenting that the board doesn't hear from the community often enough.

The 34-article "Collective Bargaining Proposed Conract" defines the bargaining relationship between Lemon Grove teachers and the school board from CEC's perspective.

The board will comment on the document at its June 8 meeting.

Horse Show Puts LG CoC In Losers Circle

Lemon Grove's Old Time Days Parade took a detour in April.

Before it got back on the track the OTD operation had lost $778, according to Glenda Jackson, Lemon Grove Cham-Chamber of Commerce manager.

A disappointing loss involved a horse show held in Jamul. An $1800 profit was anticipated. Instead it lost $807.

Even the annual carnival, which normally helps absorb the cost of the parade, produced only $960 because it rained the days it was here at the Lemon Grove Junior High school playgrounds.

Horse show loss resulted from unanticipated expenses and small attendance. In all, Old Time Days produced a total loss of $630.

A money-raising project will be needed to pay bills the show created, Bob Guest, Chamber president said.

Postpones Election

Jim Dorman, co-chairman of the Committee for Incorporation told the board the Lemon Grove incorporation election should be postponed until March 1977 and the request should be made to LAFCO (Local Agency Formation Commission) when it meets Monday.

Afterward, Dorman said, La Mesa should be encouraged to conduct its Reorganization election in November as presently scheduled. On its outcome, residents of Vista La Mesa would have been able to indicate their preference.

VLM appears not to want cityhood of any type, but to have fire protection, residents will have to choose between La Mesa and Lemon Grove — or later, San Diego.

Bob Stuart, former member of the former County Planning Department who now heads the County Citizens Assistance Office told the Chamber that the Office will handle citizens complaints and provide information regarding County rules and departments. His 6-person office will serve as trouble shooters and visit any part of the County on a day or night basis.

The office is now in operation and may be reached at 236-2742.

Scout Earns Eagle Rank Sunday

"The Voice of the Eagle" will speak to Eagle Scout Douglas Ray Precourt, son of Mrs. Gloria Precourt and the late Edward Precourt of 8963 Spring pl., Spring Valley at 7 p.m. Sunday at Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, 3348 Sweetwater blvd.

The Eagle Award is the highest award a young man can earn in the scout program. To earn an Eagle Award the scout must pass his tenderfoot, 2nd class, 1st class, star and life requirements. Requirements include learning how to care for oneself, caring for one's friend and serving others. Training is brought out by tests and 24 merit badges in areas such as first aid, swimming, public health, nature and life saving.

In addition, the scout must show leadership and character requirements in his daily life.

Leading citizens sit on boards and review, guide and challenge the youngster as he moves up the ranks of the scouting program. Only the top 2 per cent of all Scouts receive the Eagle rank.

Eagle Scout Precourt held scouting leadership positions as assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, senior patrol leader, instructor, head of Leadership corps and Council Acorn Training.

He was Den Chief for Pack 359, maintenance engineer and bugler for Mataguay Scout Ranch during the summer of 1974. He was tapped for Order of the Arrow Ashie Lodge, Kaananie Clan, and is a member of the National Assn. of Eagle Scouts.

Douglas' Scouting achievements include a 70-mile Colorado River Canoe trip, two back-packing trips to the High Sierras and a trip to the San Felipe Tide Pools.

A freshman at Monte Vista High, Douglas is an honor student and a member of the school's marching band. Throughout his junior high school years he was an honor roll student and participated in the instrumental music program. He was a 1972 and 73 Little League champion.

Now 15, Precourt is a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints where he was Deacon's Quorum president and is now Teachers' Quorum secretary, Sunday school class president, seminary president and a member of the church choir.

June 7 Set by Sups For Budget Hearings

If you want to talk to the County Board of Supervisors about the County's 1976-1977 budget, it will be a good idea to write a letter first.

Supervisors are scheduled to begin public hearings on the County 1976-77 budget June 7.

By law, the Supervisors can hold public hearings on the budget for a maximum of 10 days.

This year, in an attempt to make the public hearing process more efficient and more convenient for citizens, Supervisors are asking citizens who wish to testify for some advance notice.

Individuals or members of organizations that plan to testify before the Board during the public hearings should write to the Clerk of the Board before June 1 and explain which topic they will be speaking about. The Clerk of the Board's office will group the letters by subject, and will then contact each person to let them know when the Supervisors will be taking testimony on specific areas.

To Estimate Schedule

Supervisors are hoping the letter writing program will give them an estimate of how many people wish to speak and how many days it will take to accommodate every request. Citizens will also be able to schedule their time better.

The Board also plans to hear from those who appear to testify but have not written letters. However, once the Board has taken all the available public testimony and closed the budget hearings, no more testimony will be allowed. Whether or not the budget hearings run the full ten days provided for by law will depend on how many people wish to testify. To ensure that no one misses the days his or her topic will be discussed the Board urges those planning to testify to write to the Clerk of the Board for specific information.

Letters should be addressed to the Clerk of the Board, Room 306, County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, 92101.

Letters should be mailed so they arrive at the office before June 1. Those persons writing should also make certain their return address and telephone number are included in the letter for prompt reply.

OSHA to Hear Squawks On OSHA in June Meet

San Diego area residents get a chance this month to talk back to a burgeoning bureaucracy, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin announced.

He said OSHA is kicking off a series of national hearings on its controversial rules in San Diego June 8-10, in the Terrace Room of the Executive Hotel. Each day's session will begin at 10 a.m.

OSHA has had a stormy history since it was established by Congress in 1970. Small businesses in particular have complained about OSHA's safety standards, which they find burdensome and often incomprehensible.

Van Deerlin said the agency, under its new director, Dr. Morton Corn, "is trying to bring the welter of regulations into line with reality." The usual hearing procedures were not followed in formulating the existing rules, because of the haste with which they had to be implemented.

First of Nine

The San Diego meeting will be the first in a series of nine such hearings which OSHA will hold around the country during June.

Subject of the San Diego meetings will be "walking-working surfaces," which Van Deerlin said includes such potential workplace hazards as ladders, stairways and scaffolds. OSHA said it counted 34,000 violations of these standards last year.

ENGAGED— Mrs. L. J. Wagner of Lemon Grove has announced the engagement of her daughter, Teresa Jo-Ann, to Steven D. Piland, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Piland, live in San Diego. The couple will marry in Las Vegas on Saturday. The newlyweds will reside in Lemon Grove.

S. Murzi to Become Job's Honored Queen

Ceremonies will be held at the Masonic Temple 2590 Main st., Lemon Grove.

Dr. Hayakawa 'Hit' in Lemon Grove Appearance

The applause was loud and frequent for Dr. Sam Hayakawa in Lemon Grove last week.

Dr. Hayakawa, a Republican front-runner in the race against U.S. Senator John V. Tunney, was in Lemon Grove as guest of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Burns, a veterinarian, at their home at 8337 Mt. Vernon st. More than 150 guests attended a reception for the candidate who is the retired president of San Francisco State University and a recognized semanticist.

His discussion drew applause on such subjects as his opposition to busing to achieve racial balance; his concern about too much goveernment; the lack of integrity in politics; failure to properly control the influx of aliens over the Mexican-American border; the mistaken idea that make-work programs will cure inflation and condemnation of no growth fadists.

Particularly popular with the Burnses' guests was Hayakawa's position against gun control and his observation on the present policy in Washington of returning some of the ton of matching funds. It shouldn't go to Washington in the first place," Hayakawa says.

Checking Out Facilities, Services Best Way to Select Right Home

This is the last of a five-part series explaining how families, friends and the community can help protect the interests and welfare of nursing home patients. The material is based on Information Pamphlet No. 7, "Understanding the New California Nursing Home Act." published by the office of State Attorney General Evelle J. Younger.

The following information has been excerpted from "Selecting a Nursing Home or Alternative Care in California," published by the California Office on Aging.

When you have determined whether nursing home care or some other alternative is needed for the particular situation you are concerned with, there are several sources in the community from which you can learn how to go about finding the type you want.

These sources include the family doctor, the local health or welfare departments, hospital discharge office, churches and clergymen, and friends and neighbors.

* * *

When you have compiled a list of places that seem most appropriate, by all means make a personal visit to each one, and look for the following:

Convenience of location — to the doctor, to yourself, to shopping, etc.

Environment and general atmosphere of the neighborhood.

Appearance and demeanor of the home's residents.

Staff appearance and attitude.

Quality and quantity of food and food service (be around at meal time).

Medical staff and facilities (where medical services are included).

Posted and current state and local licenses to operate.

A schedule of financial charges and payment requirements.

Recreational activities and facilities.

Availability of social services.

Safety practices and safeguards against fire and injury.

* * *

Don't be reluctant to ask questions —the answers you receive or don't receive may tell you a lot about the quality of care being provided.

Spend as much time as you can making just the right choice; your decision can have crucial importance in the well-being and happiness of the person you are concerned about.

And follow-up visits will not only brighten the day for patients, but will also prove out the choice you have made.

She joins the Our Little Miss title winner Janise Sundstrom, also from Lemon Grove, in the July state pageant in Palm Springs. Burger King in Lemon Grove will sponsor her trip.

Veralynn has been a student of dance for four years and has been taking lessons at Dance Carousel in El Cajon for the past year. She's been competing since November and attests to one 2nd place and six first place finishes in seven contests. Her most recent achievement was a first place trophy in the tap division at La Mesa Park and Recreation's Bicentennial Talent Competition.

In another contest, she was one of 12 girls who won best-in-the-state honors for a chorus line number.

Veralynn lives at 2537 Glebe rd. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wowasch.

Youth Art Sought for J.R. Cabrillo Festival

Entries are now being accepted for the Cabrillo Festival Young People's Art Show.

The Art Show, which is sponsored by the National Park Service, is open to all young people from elementary school through high school age and is divided into four divisions: elementary, junior high, senior high and group projects.

The theme of this year's show is "Cabrillo Celebrates the Bicentennial." Sought are entries artistically expressing the many ways in which the country has changed since Juan Rodriquez Cabrillo first set foot on the shores of San Diego Bay on September 28, 1542.

All legitimate art forms—oils, watercolor, pen and ink, charcoal, pastels, collage, sculpture, diorama, etc.—are acceptable. The size of entries is limited, however, to no more than two feet square for two dimensional entries and one cubic foot for sculptures. Group projects may be larger if permission is obtained in advance.

Deadline for entries is September 13. They may be brought to the Cabrillo National Monument Visitors Center any day of the week from 9 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. or mailed to the Cabrillo National Monument, P.O. Box 6175, San Diego 92106.

Each entry must have the contestant's name, grade in school and phone number on it.

First place winners will receive a $50 savings bond in the senior high division; a $25 savings bond in the junior high division; and $15 commemorative gifts in the kindergarten through third grade and fourth grade through sixth grade sections of the elementary school division.

Smaller savings bonds and commemorative gifts will also be awarded for second and third place winners in each division.

'Lawmobile' to Aid Area Senior Citizens

The first "lawmobile" designed to serve senior citizens throughout San Diego County is now in service.

The operation of the van is being funded by a grant from the County of San Diego's Office of Senior Citizens Affairs. The van will be driven by attorney Raymond "Gene" Monce and will visit various locations throughout the county. Monce will counsel older persons on issues ranging from wills to landlord/tenant problems and make necessary court appearances.

In addition, he will train a team of senior citizens to work out of local senior centers as paralegal assistants. They will help interview and counsel older citizens looking for legal advice.

On Wednesdays, the van will visit the East County at 228 South Magnolia street in El Cajon from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Fridays Monce will visit various nursing homes, hospitals and home-bound persons. For specific local visit times call the Downtown Senior Center at 299-7751.

Baroque Accent at Sunday E. County Center Concert

A special benefit concert to assist fund raising efforts to equip the East County Performing Arts Center in El Cajon, is presented Sunday. Featured will be the Jewish Community Center Chamber Orchestra.

The orchestra will perform works from the Baroque and classical periods.

The 8 p.m. concert opens in the college's Student Center with Von Biber's "Sonata a 6" followed by "The Unanswered Question" by Ives.

San Diego Youth Symphony member Steven Foster will be featured soloist in the two works. Other compositions in the program include "Appalachian Spring" by Aaron Copland; "Overture to the Hebrides" by Mendelssohn and "Symphony No. 104 in D Major" by Haydn.

Tickets are sold at the door —$2.50 for adults and $1.25 for students and senior citizens. Advance tickets are available at 256 Witherspoon wy. in El Cajon.

Picnic to Provide Handicapped Funds

An "Old Fashioned Family Picnic," with all proceeds benefitting the Home of Guiding Hands, Lakeside, will be held Sunday 10 a.m. at the Big Oak Ranch in Harbison Canyon.

Sponsored by Los Amigos Junior Women's Guild for the Home of Guiding Hands, the picnic will feature entertainment by the radio comedy team Hudson & Bauer, who are donating their services, a western barbecue lunchen, and a day-long program of swimming, square dancing, contests for all ages, and "cake box auctions," according to Mrs. Robert McCaslin, of Spring Valley, Los Amigos member.

Tickets are $4 adults, $2 children, and reservations may be made by calling 461-1810.

Los Amigos annually pledges $3000 to the Home of Guiding Hands from various fund-raising events. Improvements on the auditorium building are the immediate goal, Mrs. McCaslin said.

The Home cares for 286 mentally handicapped residents annually.

STATION TO PRESERVE MEMORY — Spring Valley Fire Chief Daryel Stager helps raise flag to half mast during ceremonies which recently dedicated fire station No. 1 on Troy st. in the name of Stanley R. Totten.
The chief joined friends, family, firemen and members of the fire district board of directors at recent ceremonies. Totten served on the board of directors from 1957 until his death this year.
Among those participating in the dedication was Assemblyman Wadie Deddeh.
The California flag, presented by Deddeh, had flown over the state capitol.

Surveyed prices for individual food items in the capital cities of the countries previously measured ranked Washington D.C. as the fifth lowest in the price of the two beef items that were checked.

Tokyo was listed as the highest of all cities surveyed with boneless sirloin steak selling for $14.80 a pound. The lowest price was in Brasilia at 72 cents a pound.

Boneless chuck roast was also the highest in Tokyo at $5.45 a pound, whereas in Washington D.C. it was $1.26 a pound.

Fewer Pupils Statewide But Decline Slowing, State Super. Says

Enrollment in California's public schools continues to decline, but the rate of loss appear to be slowing, it was reported by Wilson Riles, state superintendent of public instruction.

Riles said enrollments fell about .3 per cent last fall to 4,284,471 among pupils in kindergarten through grade 12. This rate of decline, he said, was only about one-third of the drop experienced a year ago.

The slump in enrollment is still having its greatest effect in elementary school grades, Riles reported.

Enrollment in the kindergarten through grade 8 fell slightly less than 1 per cent this school year. At the same time, the number of students in grade 9 through 12 grew by a little more than 1 per cent.

Overall, the 4.3 million pupils in public schools last fall was about 11,000 less than a year earlier.

San Diego County, with 311,000 pupils in kindergarten through 12 grade classes, has the third largest enrollment in the state. In contrast, the lowest in the state is Alpine County with a total enrollment of 137.

Termites Begin Spring Mating In Swarms

Homeowners may have noticed, since the onset of spring, swarms of insects in and around the house.

"The swarm", according to Dave Dierolf, San Diego District Chairman of Pest Control Operators of California, Inc., "means that the unfortunate home owner has an infestation of subterranean termites which choose springtime for this activity."

Mr. Dierolf explained that termite colonies are composed of workers, soldiers and winged reproductives, which normally mate in the Spring.

Swarming is their mate selecting exercise. They move from an existing colony to form a new one which will contain an average of 250,000 destructive, long lived pests.

If not detected in time, the invisible workers will consume wooden timbers until nothing is left but a thin, collapsible shell.

The pest control expert advises homeowners spotting a spring swarm to seek the services of a pest control professional to inspect the home.

PCOC's consumer education programs include offering the public free booklets on pest prevention, detection and control.

LM Annex Election to Decide Fate of VLM

Paul Fordem said his city was delighted to hear the news from Jim Dorman.

Dorman, co-chairman of the Lemon Grove Incorporation Reorganization Committee, attended a La Mesa City Council meeting last week to inform city officials there that Lemon Grove, in the interest of preserving its incorporation effort, was postponing its election until March and recommending La Mesa write all of Vista La Mesa into it reorganization, scheduled to go to the voters November 2.

La Mesa councilmen voted 4-1 to take up Dorman's suggestion. Last month, the city decided to remove VLM from its plan so as not to jeopardize its other annexations.

Hot Potato

The Lemon Grove committee decided to drop the unincorporated hot potato of Highway 94 to end the bickering with La Mesa and prevent any further delays in Lemon Grove's fourth attempt to incorporate.

La Mesa's annexation will now include residents of Rolando, an area slightly smaller than Vista La Mesa north of University and west of 70th st., and VLM — defined as the Vista La Mesa tract and all surrounding unincorporated land north of Highway 94 bounded by the cities of San Diego and La Mesa.

With a majority vote, both areas will be absorbed by La Mesa.

If La Mesa can win the territory, a portion of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District would be detached and moved into the La Mesa fire district. Lemon Grove School District, which runs Vista La Mesa elementary north of the freeway, would be unaffected by the annexation.

Two Okays

All that remains to set the La Mesa election in motion is an okay of the boundary from the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) and approval by the Board of Supervisors. LAFCO brings the matter up Tuesday at its monthly meeting.

District 2 Supervisor Dick Brown, who backed the effort to move Lemon Grove's boundaries all the way to University ave., said he would support the change "if, in its infinite wisdom, that's what the Lemon Grove committee wants."

Separate from the Rolando-Vista La Mesa annexation is La Mesa's desire to acquire the American Homes-Spring Valley Highlands area, a small tract east of VLM and north of 94.

State Revenue Up; More Tax $$ Spent

SACRAMENTO — The State's General Fund cash receipts were $7,505,460,072 and the government cost expenditures were $7,817,567,543 through April 30, the first 10 months of Fiscal Year 1975-76.

The revenues were $802,013,620 greater than for the same period a year ago, an increase of 11.96 per cent. The expenditures were $1,060,496,245 higher than a year earlier, an increase of 15.47 per cent.

Revenues are running 4.8 per cent greater than State budget estimates prepared last December. Expenditures are running 1.1 per cent below the estimates.

DOWN IT GOES — Richard Sunbury prepares to lower a time capsule into the ground at Casa de Oro Elementary school as student council representatives look on. Observers (l-r) are Patti Poley, student council vice president; Yvette Helmer, secretary; Craig Smith, president, and Shannon Swisher, treasurer.

Students Bury Capsule for Reunion in the Year 2000

In the year 2000, the students at Casa de Oro Elementary School will be in their mid-30s, but several plan to return to school on May 28 that year, a Saturday, to watch the digging-up ceremonies for their time capsule which was planted Friday in front of the school office.

Everyone at the school got into the act by writing letters to friends or letters to their 24-year-older selves.

They even passed around a tape recorder, recorded their views about the bicentennial and how life was in 1976, and dropped the tapes into the tube.

The project grew out of an idea by fifth grade teacher Bud Willis. The capsule was dedicated and buried Friday at a special ceremony which included music by Spring Valley Jr. High band.

Richard Sunbury, a student in Mr. Willis' class, furnished the piping, a six-foot plastic length sealed at both ends, which was donated by his grandfather who owns Green Plumbing & Heating in Spring Valley. His mother produced a metal plaque which will mark the burial ground.

The plaque reads, "In commemoratian of the 1976 Bicentennial year, this time capsule was buried by the students of Casa de Oro Elementary School on May 28, 1976 and is not to be opened until May 28, 2000."

Members will discuss plans for the coming year and will introduce new officers.

Diligence Finds Suspect in S.V. Armed Robbery

A combination of good memory and good research aided a detective assigned to the Lemon Grove office of the Sheriff's Department with solving the April 29 armed robbery of Dean's Photo Service on Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley.

A black male, about 19, reportedly pointed a gun at the female clerks and demanded the money.

A teenager observed the robbery and memorized the licensed number of the getaway car. He scrambled the last three digits, however.

The detective, Craig Henderson, watched diligently for various combinations of the license number and on May 12 noted a blue Mazda with all of the numbers. The driver fit the general description of the robber.

The driver denied guilt but Henderson convinced him to prove it by having his picture taken. A Polaroid picture was shown to the victims who identified him.

Later, the suspect was put in a lineup and again identified. The suspect lives on Buena Vista ave. in Spring Valley, and has a prior juvenile record, the report shows.

He will be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

Padres Begin Longest Homestand

The Padres will finish out a quick road swing with the Pittsburgh Pirates and then prepare for one of the longest periods of home competition in the 7½-year history of the franchise.

The Padres opened the short two-city trip at Atlanta and will conclude into mini road series with single games in Pittsburgh with the defending Eastern Division champion Pirates Friday through Sunday.

Then, it'll be right back home to San Diego Stadium for four games with the New York Mets on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday — the beginning of 22 home games between June 7 and July 2.

For the record, the Padres home opponents during this long stretch are New York (June 7-10), Philadelphia (June 11-13) doubleheader on the 13th). Montreal (June 14-16), San Francisco (June 20-22), Atlanta (June 25-27, doubleheader on June 26), Cincinnati (June 28-30) and Los Angeles (July 1-2).

"This is our chance to make our move," Padres third-year field skipper John McNamara said. "With all of those home dates we stand an excellent chance of being able to put together a couple of streaks that could boost us several games over the .500 mark.

.500 Is Base

"That's all it's going to take, really," continued McNamara. "We keep playing it close right down the line, winning a few in a row and losing a few in a row. All it takes is to get a couple of modest winning streaks going and suddenly instead of winding up the year right around the 81-81 mark, you're in the neighborhood of 90 wins and playing better than 20 games above .500.

"It's very deceptive when you're around .500 area as it really doesn't take much to turn a so-so record into a pretty good winning record."

The Padres should be a well rested club during the month as once they come back for the June 7-16 homestand they leave the state for only three games in St. Louis (June 18-20). The only other road swing is three games in two days in San Francisco against the Giants (June 23-24).

Only one special event is on the schedule for the opening homestand series with the New York Mets and that will be on Monday, June 7 when the Padres team up with the Leadership Club of San Diego. The club is selling special tickets to the game and will be sharing in the evening's proceeds with the funds then being channeled into various local youth organizations.

Randy Jones Wins HoC Star Award

His dazzling 1976 start in the National League campaign has brought southpaw Randy Jones April professional Star of the Month honors from the S. D. Hall of Champions Breitbard Athletic Awards Committee.

Winner of three similar awards in 1975 when he became the first San Diego Padre pitcher to turn in a 20-win season, Jones subsequently was named the County's pro Star of the Year. Recently the National League also cited him for his brilliant mound work during the opening month of the schedule.

Jones hurled four consecutive victories in April before finally being defeated by the Chicago Cubs.

Two other Padres, relief pitcher Clarence "Butch" Metzger and rookie outfielder Jerry Turner, were granted Certificates of Achievement for their contributions to the team's good start.

Racquetball Championships Scheduled Here June 16-19

San Diego County will produce five of the first seven seeds for the $15,000 Leach-Seamco Pro National Racquetball Championship June 16-19 at the Atlas Health Club in Mission Valley.

Defending champion Charlie Brumfield, who lives in Pt. Loma, is top-seeded for the event that will attract 32 nationally ranked pro players.

University of San Diego student Richard Wagner will be third-seeded behind Marty Hogan, at 18 the youngest player in the select field who presently lives in St. Louis but intends to move to San Diego in the fall.

Other area players who are highly-seeded for the tournament include Steve Strandemo (fourth-seeded), Steve Keeley (fifth) and Steve Serot (seventh).

Brumfield, the tour's leading money winner with over $14,000 in tournament earnings this year and nearly $35,000 during his career, captured four National Racquetball Club events this season as well as two International Racquetball tournaments.

Hogan and Wagner are the only other players to have won a tournament during the 1975-1976 NRC schedule.

Other prominent players scheduled to compete in the national championships are Dave Bleadsoe, Memphis; Jay Jones, Los Angeles; Mike Zeitman, Memphis; Bill Schmidtke, Minneapolis; Jerry Hilecher, St. Louis; and Craig McCoy, Riverside.

Jan Campbell of San Diego is seeded fourth in the women's competition.

The Leach-Seamco event, which rewards the winner with $4,000, is the culmination of a seven-tourney NRC pro series.

Seating at the 22,000-square foot Atlas Health Club, located directly behind Mission Valley Inn, is limited as a championship court. All seats are reserved and may be purchased in advance at The Atlas Health Club, or by calling 298-9321.

VOTE "NO" ON CHARTER AMENDMENTS

DEFEAT THEM BEFORE THEY DEFEAT YOU

But before you vote "NO"–please consider the following facts. Then you will understand there is really no other way to vote.

Prop. A: Opens the door to political cronyism. Subjects top management and highly specialized personnel to political pressure and brings yes men to important positions.

Prop. B: Does away with the yardstick by which county salaries are set. County wage earners are deprived of equal pay for equal work.

Prop. C: Removes barriers to conflict of interest. Encourages kickbacks, bribes, and general corruption.

Prop. D: Promotes favoritism in awarding millions of dollars in county contracts. County services would revert to the spoils system.

Prop. G: Removes personnel from jobs as a result of an accusation or complaint before an investigation.

Prop. H: Demolishes a portion of the Civil Service System. Politicians could penalize employees who refuse to favor special political interests.

Prop. J: Denies public employees equal rights under the law. Removes Civil Service from disciplinary proceedings. Aggravates labor relations between City and employees. Deprives City of flexibility in resolving labor disputes.

Here are just a few of many concerned individuals and organizations who are urging a NO vote on Charter Amendments:

Joseph Stern, Senior Advocate
John Hewicker, Retired Superior Court Judge
Hugh Boyle, President, San Diego Teachers Association
Ralph P. Darr, Retired Senior Citizen
Mary Christian Heising, National Women's Political Caucus
John S. Lyons, Secretary Treasurer, Teamsters Local 36
Leslie C. Parker, Council of Carpenters
Mildred Perry Waite, Retired President, San Diego City, Civil Service Commission
Lou Ridgeway, Trustee, Community College
Lula Coleman, President, Coronado Democratic Club
John D' Alfonso, Publisher, Uptown Examiner
Eugene W. Yee, President, S.D. Public Employees Ass'n
Ken Richardson, Military Order of the Purple Heart
Mike Piastro, Past Chairman, California Committee on Aging

There are only two kinds of government—clean and corrupt. Vote "no" June 8. Keep San Diego clean.

Props. K and N Get Women's Endorsement

The League of Women Voters of Grossmont-Cajon Valley have endorsed measures K and N, the two proposals of the Grossmont Union High School District on the June 8 ballot. Measure K asks authorization for preparation of plans and lease of facilities for a new high school in Santee, and N asks authorization for additional facilities at Valhalla High School in El Cajon.

Dana Quittner, league president, said, "We believe that adequate housing is important to students' learning."

If You Believe You've Been Cheated

This column features a series of consumer protection advisories prepared as a public service by the California Trial Lawyers Association to warn consumers of some of the hazards of business dealings.

Consumers are urged to write CTLA for their Consumer Protection Pamphlet which tells "How Not to Be Cheated and Who to Contact If You Are."

The address is at the end of this column.

Checking Out Your Mobile Home Warranty

The law in California requires that all new mobile homes sold by any dealer which is licensed by the Department of Motor Vehicles and sold to a purchaser within the state shall be covered by a warranty.

In addition to the structure itself, the Mobile Home Warranty covers plumbing, heating and electrical systems and all appliances and other equipment installed therein by the manufacturer or dealer.

The manufacturer as well as the dealer who sells the Mobile Home is responsible for the warranty.

It is required that the purchaser of the Mobile Home receive a separate written document containing the warranty. This warranty must be received at the time a contract of sale is signed and must contain, among other things, the following terms:

1. That there is no substantial defects in materials or workmanship.

2. That within one year from the date of delivery of the mobile home to the buyer, any defect in material or workmanship is covered; provided the purchaser gives written notice of such defects to the manufacturer or dealer.

3. That the address and phone number of the dealer or manufacturer be set forth in the warranty.

4. That the manufacturer and the dealer are jointly liable for the terms of the warranty.

This particular law covering warranties on mobile homes is not the sole remedy for defects. This is in addition to any other complaints for negligence, breach of contract, etc. that a purchaser may have.

To obtain a copy of the CTLA Consumer Protection pamphlet, designed to acquaint you with your rights in the law, send a stamped self-addressed envelope to CTLA, 1020 12th st., Sacramento, CA 95814. Specify whether you want it in English or Spanish.

Condemns Opponent

Dear Editor:

Taxpayers with whom I talk are shocked and amazed that Assembly candidate Jim Ellis has answered a question in writing submitted by the League of Women Voters which asked: "What responsibility should the state assume for the financing of education?" by answering "None."

This is a most unfortunate position for a candidate for State Assembly to take and one which I oppose.

Removing the State of California totally from the financing of education would mean that funds from the State, which now finance approximately one-half of all education costs, would have to be picked up almost entirely by the property tax.

I believe that the property taxpayer is already greatly overburdened and shifting any additional responsibilities for obtaining funds to the property tax would be very wrong indeed.

I further feel that the Senior Citizen has been burdened unjustly with property taxes and relief should be granted specifically to them. Councilman Ellis' position would substantially aggravate the property taxpayers' plight.

Sincerely,
Mike Bollman
Candidate for State Assembly
77th Assembly Dist.

Bargain Bin, Shadoan's Leads S.V. Bobby Soxers

By Paul Stark

Good pitching highlighted last week's action in the Spring Valley Bobby Sox League as Allie Humphries and Vicki Culver led the way with 15 and 10 strikeout performances.

Bargain Bin Market leads the majors with a 14-0 mark while Shadoan's Interiors leads the pack in the minors with a 11-2 record.

Tuesday, Bargain Bin won its 14th straight game by beating S.V. Women's Club 7-1 in the Majors.

In the Minors, S.V. Merchants beat Nassco 12-11.

Realty World beat Thomas Disposal 5-4 behind the 4-hit pitching of Suzanne Trim.

15 strikeouts by Allie Humphries led Shadoans to a 8-1 victory over Goodbody.

Suzanne Eskride pitched Blanchard's to a 4-0 win over Tom's Meats.

Vicki Culver struck out 10 for the Women's Club and racked up a 9-0 score over Puppy World.

Resale Home Cost Average Near $45,000

April statistics from the San Diego Board of Realtors Multiple Listing Service show that the average sale price of resale single-family houses and condominiums was $44,912. This is up from the March average of $42,217 and the highest monthly average thus far in 1976. The April 1975 average was $40,146.

The surge in the average from March to April was unexpected, according to a spokesman for the Board of Realtors. January through March figures had indicated a flattening-out of average prices to around the $42,500 area with no major increase expected until June.

The San Diego MLS includes the city and some unincorporated areas of the county.

In April there were 541 resale house and condo sales finalized by MLS members. There were 564 in March, 372 in February, 499 in January and 577 in April 1975.

The resales home market was worth $24,297,927 in April. The March volume was $23,810,433.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Dave Tomlin is one of those employed in unique toil that brings great measure of overwork in this day and age of high unemployment. His drudgery is one of fond talent, though his efforts are only demanded on other's failures and he is most often called only after the fat is in the fire and his fingers are subject to severe scorching.

Dave is a relief pitcher. One of a breed that thrives on heat, is stimulated by adversity and finds fulfillment in calamity. In baseball parlance, he is called "fireman" because his alarm is never rung unless trouble is on the line and runners on base. As such, he finds his overwork with the San Diego Padres.

He loves the pressure. A former colleague, Danny Frisella, now with the St. Louis Cards, loved to make the point that, ". . . relief pitching is where it's all at. The game is on the line. Runners are usually in scoring position and the toughest hitters are coming up. That's really where the action is."

Relief pitching is truly for the stout of heart, the brave of body and the quick of mind. Dave Tomlin comes by his job honestly. He even looks the part.

Tomlin stands six-feet, two-inches stretched out over a muscular frame suited to the warrior clan. He proudly displays a fierce mustache that would bring honor to a Cossack calvaryman charging through the Crimean campaign.

His eyes flash aggressively and his stance borders on pure belligerence when he peers in for his catcher's wigwag.

He learned this attitude growing up. He battled his way in the warm and competitive confines of a large family. Dave is the youngest of 13 Tomlin youngun's and he had to fight for every inch of his place in the sun, not to mention the dinner table.

His folks are farm stock, rooted to the soil in the quiet Ohio Valley country that beckoned settlers west in our country's early days. Daniel Boone walked through their valley back in the 1780s looking for a place the Indians called the "meadowland," in their tongue "Ken-ta-ke".

Women folk back there still put up preserves in the fall, and the men folk still plow the earth, chew tobacco and drink their corn, as befittin' those whose ancestors developed the art.

Tomlin brings a ton of this heritage to the mound on his visits there. And he battles enemy batters every step of the way. He may get whipped, but never beaten.

"He's good," says Padre pitching coach Roger Craig. "And he's going to get better. Experience is a great teacher. Dave is blessed with a kind of a rubber arm. He can go three, four days in a row. His fast ball sinks down and away and we've got him working on a cut-fast ball that sails in on right handed batters. He's got all the tools and he's a helluva competitor."

Tomlin warms up fast and knows to fire a few at whatever runners greet his arrival on the mound to get in a little extra work if it's needed before addressing a batter.

"Dave worked four games straight, not long ago," recalled Craig. "Then he came to me and told me he had another inning in his arm if we really needed it. That's a winner. That's giving everything you've got and reaching down for more."

Starting pitchers, like Randy Jones, Brent Strom and Dave Freisleben are everybody's heroes, or everybody's goats, depending on how they're going. They get the headlines, and rightfully so. They have a tough job.

But remember, of the first 40 games played by the Padres this year, only 10 were complete games and the Jones boy had eight of them.

Sometimes Tomlin's crowd gets a little credit, most often they don't. A lot of fans don't even know they're around. But the other players do. Especially starting pitchers. They know baseball is a "team" game and the key to winning are the guys in relief.

Tomlin and his ilk stand high in the measure of their teammates. They know them for their value, hard battlers giving endless effort on the remote and thankless corner of their trade.

Hell, if the Christians had a few like Tomlin in their bullpen, they'd have beat the lions.

Black and Gold Mustang Unveiled by Ford Dealers

A black-and-gold version of Ford Division's Cobra II Mustang was introduced to more than 200 Southern California Ford dealers and salesmen last week.

Black with gold accent stripes and Cobra fender emblems, the new car goes on sale this month and complements blue-and-white and white-and-blue Cobra II models introduced by Ford last fall.

Cobra II sold better than Ford marketers expected. It represents about 16 per cent of all Mustang II sales in S. California. Originally estimated for sales of 5,000 when it was introduced last October, 17,000 have been built to date and 20,000 are scheduled by the end of the 1976 model year.

Ford mated its V-8 engine in 1960 with a British sports car and sold it as the Cobra II through selected dealerships. Race versions of the Cobra swept to the World Manufacturers' GT Championship in 1965.

Three Styles

All three versions of the 1976 Cobra II — black, white and blue — feature unique double stripes that run the full length of the car from front to rear bumper. Cobra emblems are affixed to the front fenders, and a bright die-cast cobra emblem is centered on a blacked-out grille.

Cobra appliques also appear on the centers of the car's standard styled steel wheels and optional forged-aluminum wheels. The Cobra's high-performance image is heightened by front and rear-deck spoilers, simulated air scoop on the hood, dual-color-keyed racing mirrors and BR-70 raised-white-letter tires. European-style window louvers cover both rear quarter windows.

Cobra II comes equipped with a 3.2-liter four cylinder engine and four-speed manual transmission. A 2.8-liter V-6 and 302-cubic-inch V-8 are optional.

Many of Mustang II's regular options also are available on Cobra II, including power steering, power front-disc brakes, competition suspension, locking rear axle, leather-wrapped steering wheel and console.

Hewicker Disclaims Support For Lawyer

Superior Court Judge (retired) John A. Hewicker this week refuted a claim allegedly made by the opponent of Municipal Court Judge George Crawford. Judge Crawford is seeking reelection.

Hewicker said Tuesday, "I did not support attorney (Ronald A.) Mayo and never would. He's the tool of the criminal lawyers. I would not support him for anything."

Judge Hewicker was appointed to the Superior Court bench by Gov. Warren in 1949 and served for 21 years.

A group of 110 men and women who suffer some degree of mental retardation are expected to become employees of the State Department of Health within the next year, State Health Director Jerome Lackner announced.

Lackner said the new employees will be assigned to state hospitals where they will perform clerical duties. Those who successfully complete a six-month probationary period will become permanent civil service employees.

Some members of the group may later be diverted to general worker status, Lackner said.

They must have IQ's in the 60 to 80 range, described as the "slow learner" level. Those who achieve top scores are given employment preference. Monthly pay scale, established by the State Personnel Board, begins at $497 and tops at $605 after several years of service.

Humane Advice: Leave Pooch Home in Shade

The Humane Society has issued its periodic warning about leaving dogs in vehicles during warm weather. The Society's officers are responding to more calls for rescue, usually in shopping center parking lots.

"Each year, many calls are too late, and the animals die from the heat in a closed vehicle," Bill Huskey, executive director of the Center for Humane Education, said.

He offers these facts: On an average summer day in Southern California, the temperature can reach an unbearable 160 degrees in a closed car parked in the sun. A dog can die from heat prostration within 20 minutes in a car, even with the windows partly open.

Dogs do not perspire through their skin as people do. A dog's lungs are his main cooling system; thus, with nothing but over-heated air to breathe, he cannot live very long.

Huskey strongly recommends leaving the dog at home on shopping days.
